In the pic it should be routed from the back of the engine to under the exhaust in front, just under the coil. It has a split where it goes from hard plastic line to a rubber one, the valve is at the split. I purchased my 1998 Ford Escort ZX2 from a private owner. His daughter had been using it to travel back and forth to college. The price was right, and so was the mileage at just 112,000 miles.
